About College

Gondia Education Society's J. M. Patel Arts, Commerce & Science College, Bhandara, is a premier institution not only of R.T.M. Nagpur University but also of central India as well. In order to spread the light of knowledge and education lit by Late Manoharbhair Patel, and to make it more pervasive, Late Natwarlal Patel came forward with all his generous contribution. Consequently, J. M. Patel College was set up in 1964 in the pious memory of Late Shri Natwarlal Patel's father Late Shri Jashbhai Muljibhai Patel. It is worth mentioning that this college started only as Arts & Commerce College in the beginning. Thanks to the vision of the management of Gondia Education Society, and the zeal of the Principals, staff and other well-wishers of the institution, it has enormously risen to great heights in its journey of over five decades. The philanthropic vision of the founding fathers has been taken to newer heights by our Patron, Hon'ble Shri Praful Patel, President Hon'ble Smt. Varsha Patel, Vice-President Hon'ble Shri Mukesh Patel, Secretary Hon'ble Shri Rajendra Jain, Director Hon'ble Shri Nikhil Jain and other Members of the Governing body. Presently this college imparts education in various disciplines like Arts, Commerce, Science and Management up to the PhD Level. We were the first institute in Nagpur University to launch Computer Science Courses. The College now has nearly 4000 students studying in over 35 different UG, PG, certificate and diploma programmes. Every year, students of the College excel not only in academics but also in cultural and sporting arena.

THE TWO DAYS' FACULTY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

The Teaching-learning process has undergone a lot of changes, especially in the last decade or so. The intervention of technology has challenged the way teaching occurs in our classrooms. The students, today, have access to unlimited learning resources on the net. Therefore, the teacher is not the only source of information. Technology is changing the dynamics of education, especially the relationship between teachers and students.

In this changed and ever changing scenario, teachers are required to replace old models of standardized, rote learning and create more personalized, self-directed experiences for their students. Softwares that support multiuser collaboration, both within and beyond a classroom, and provide customized learning solutions have become the order of the day. Thus, teachers are now being required to create their own digital content and deliver it to the student community. This needs understanding of the technology and the training to create the content and deliver it effectively.

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the College feels that it is only in the fitness of things that teachers be familiarized to different effective technological interventions in the Teaching-learning process. The Two days Faculty Development Programme (FDP) organized under the support from UGC CPE (Phase II) would facilitate understanding the effective use of the Learning Management Systems and designing, developing and delivering MOOCs. The Resource Persons are experts in the area of educational technology.
